Excellence in Leadership Management

PIK789-0426 UK-LDN-2

If you can't train them,
you can't blame them!

Short Description:

In today's rapidly evolving business landscape, corporations must cultivate dynamic leaders who can foster innovation, entrepreneurial spirit, focus, and productivity among their employees. This course aims to equip leaders with essential management skills and leadership styles that will enhance their impact and effectiveness in the workplace. Participants will gain insights and skills to leverage the abilities of their team members effectively. By addressing real-life organisational challenges and considering the unique circumstances of individual participants, the course prepares current and future leaders to navigate the myriad challenges posed by accelerating globalisation. This highly interactive seminar encourages self-examination, allowing delegates to identify their strengths and weaknesses. Key competencies developed throughout the course include communication, interpersonal skills, and decision-making abilities, all of which are vital for effective leadership. Participants will learn how to instigate change, promote innovation, and support enterprise within their teams. Additionally, delegates will receive valuable feedback regarding their preferred behavioural, management, and leadership styles. The curriculum is grounded in the latest scientific research on effective and creative decision-making. Delegates will learn to apply flexible leadership strategies practically, enabling their teams to achieve specific goals. The course not only provides a platform for exploring contemporary theories in management and leadership excellence but also incorporates assessments—both test-based and instructor-led—against key leadership competencies.
