Strategic Leadership for Recruitment and Performance Management Leaders

PIK-1025 USA-OR-1

If you can't train them,
you can't blame them!

Short Description:

This leadership training program is tailored for professionals who lead recruitment and performance management functions, blending core leadership principles with practical strategies for talent optimisation and organisational performance. It emphasises how to lead teams effectively, make strategic talent decisions, and create high-performance cultures within dynamic organisational contexts. The course covers self-leadership, strategic alignment, team motivation, decision-making, and change leadership. Participants will gain insights into balancing operational excellence with visionary leadership, learning how to influence culture, drive performance, and attract and retain top talent. Real-life case studies, interactive group activities, leadership self-assessments, and simulations will enable attendees to strengthen their leadership capabilities and align them with recruitment and performance management goals.
